Dear Auntie Design,

Because of your generosity, the many victims of Hurricane Katrina will have the chance to recover and move forward.

Thank you for your gift of $642.31 on November 4, 2005, in support of American Red Cross relief efforts for Hurricane Katrina. Your gift makes it possible for the Red Cross to help the victims of Hurricane Katrina recover from this massive storm.

Hurricane Katrina has ripped apart many lives and left tens of thousands homeless. At its peak, it was one of the fiercest hurricanes in recorded history and measured about 460 miles wide – the distance from New Orleans to Atlanta. Even after its passing, the devastation remains. Many of those made homeless by Katrina continue to wait in shelters and hotels as they try to put the pieces of their lives back together. The thousands who have been able to return home find their communities changed; stained with flood damage and desolation.

Responding to Hurricane Katrina, the American Red Cross launched the largest mobilization of resources for a single natural disaster, involving more than 194,000 trained disaster relief workers, tons of supplies, and hundreds of millions of dollars. Even as millions were sheltered, fed, clothed, and given financial assistance, it became evident that this relief effort would be needed for months to come.

The Red Cross continued to respond to the emerging needs of the people affected by Hurricane Katrina, during the additional flooding, devastation, and widespread power outages of Hurricane Rita, which hit coasts of Texas and western Louisiana on September 24. Only time will tell what the remainder of this hurricane season will bring, but the Red Cross is closely monitoring the situation and preparing for every conceivable outcome.

We strive to acknowledge contributions in a timely manner. Because of the enormous outpouring of support we have recently received, this letter may have taken longer to reach you than we would like. We thank you for your support – and your patience.

Our highest priority will always be to those facing challenges from natural or man-made disasters. You helped make their lives a little easier. Thank you for your support of the Hurricane Katrina relief efforts and the lifesaving mission of the American Red Cross.

Kind regards,
